Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Modern Academic Counterpoint We do it soon enough, if that we do be well. He that is a master must serve. A great ship asks deep waters. From Jaeula Prudentium by George Herbert, 1632. One may do whate er one likes In Art - the only thing is, to make sure That one does like it - which takes pains to know. From Pippa Passes by Robert Broning, 1833 - 1842. It is a slavish toil to learn any art by text-books merely, without the assistance of a tutor; the written rule is of little use, is scarcely intelligible, until we have seen it reduced to practice by one who can practise it easily, and make its justice apparent. The case and readiness of the master are infectious; the pupil, as he looks on, conceives a new hope, a new self-reliance; he seems already to touch the goal which before appeared removed to a hopeless distance. It is a slavery when soldiers are driven against the enemy by the despotic command of a leader who...
