Course 1 should be preceded by Course B, but is open to Freshmen who have passed in the Elective Chemistry for admission or who satisfy the Instructor that they are fitted to pursue the course. This extended course of lectures on Descriptive Chemistry furnishes not only an essential prerequisite to the further study of the science, but also offers an important means of liberal culture. It supplements Courses A and B. The former deal chiefly with fundamental principles of Chemistry, and only a few of the more elementary facts are studied as illustrations of these principles. Chemistry 1, on the other hand, offers a systematic presentation of the accumulating facts of the science, and covers the whole ground of what is distinguished as inorganic chemistry. The accumulation is so great that only the most important facts can be studied in one of our college courses....
